

Jacob Ostling

ASSOCIATE

jostling@frlip.com
646-797-4354
New York

Jacob Ostling has litigated all stages of patent infringement actions in district courts including E.D. Texas, W.D. Texas, New Jersey, Delaware, California, and in the ITC, and has represented patent owners and petitioners before the PTAB and USPTO in over 90 inter partes reviews (“IPRs”) and ex parte reexaminations (“EPRs”). Jacob has extensive experience leading issues of infringement, validity, and damages in cases involving hardware and software technology such as smartphones, mobile payments, acoustic signal processing, semiconductors, cellular networks, secure computing, electronic displays, and lighting.

Jacob routinely takes and defends depositions of key witnesses, while leading discovery. Jacob has also argued numerous Markman hearings resulting in favorable claim constructions for his clients, and has successfully argued discovery and other motions.

Prior to joining Fabricant Rubino & Lambrianakos LLP, Jacob was an associate at Brown Rudnick LLP.

CREDENTIALS

Education

- Boston University School of Law, J.D., 2018
- Worcester Polytechnic Institute, B.S., Mechanical Engineering, 2015

Bar & Court Admissions

- New York
- U.S. Patent and Trademark Office

Representative Experience

- Represented a mobile payments company in a patent enforcement campaign against several smartphone manufacturers and payment networks. Defended the validity of the patents against numerous IPRs and EPRs and obtained favorable settlements.
- Represents a patent owner in a patent enforcement campaign regarding acoustic signal processing technology against numerous smartphone and wireless earbud manufacturers.
- Represented a patent owner in a patent enforcement campaign regarding smartwatch and accelerometer technology.

- Represents a patent owner in a patent enforcement campaign regarding 5G wireless technology against numerous cellular networks and infrastructure providers.
- Represents a secure mobile authentication developer in patent enforcement actions against numerous financial institutions.
- Represents a semiconductor company in ITC and district court proceedings concerning infringement of patents covering memory.